This Week:

Wow 6P such as sophisticated, entertaining, thoughtful and fascinating Easter Assembly. Your acting was excellent, your tech team were impeccable, your costumes were brilliant and your jokes were awful! Your families and the whole school were so proud of you all. Well done team 6P!

Year 5 have enjoyed their visit to the British Museum to learn more about Ancient Egypt. They particularly liked the artefacts workshop.

A group of children went to a special event at the Royal Festival Hall with Miss Ellington yesterday:

"We went to the Royal Festival Hall to watch a live concert with many different instruments. We took the underground to Waterloo Station. I really enjoyed hearing many different instruments to be played by experts. We really liked the music and found it very soothing. We got to sing along with a song called Monster Kay. The Festival Hall was very big and the musicians were very talented. There were some children who played music on the stage and there was a lady who sang opera." Ella, Amelia, Andy & Queenie 6D drawing by Queenie

Thank you to the Parents Association Team, Miss Christie and Mr Adjudani for organising the Easter Orienteering trail. Everyone had a great time despite the weather!

Eco Group:

"We are excited to look for a place to install this water butt after the holidays. It will collect all the rainwater from the gutters and can be used instead of tap water for many things, making our school site more sustainable. Gardening club are also excited for this because the plants prefer rainwater to tap water."

Next Week:

Have a lovely Easter break.

Parking:

This Week myself & Mrs McCafferty the Headteacher of Brookland Infant School had a meeting with Connie Kaphouris, who is the school travel plan champion in Barnet. We spoke about the traffic situation outside our school, especially the parking issues we continue to face. After the holidays we will have parking wardens coming 3 days a week in the morning and the afternoon during pick up and drop off times. They will issue tickets to anyone parking across drives, on the zig zag lines and/or yellow lines. This all so we can ensure our children can come to school safely. As always, we encourage walking, cycling, scootering to school or park & stride (this is where you park further away and walk the last bit). Thank you as always to vast majority of parents who park safely and legally.

Golden Sentences in Big Writing this week:

"Horses! There are horses coming! Horses from Gog Magog! We're done for!"

Warnings & yells echoed throughout the cathedral halls. Although, Zoe (who was now oblivious to all sounds) had her eyes on William's cold figure laying still on the ground. Anger! Fright! Anguish! Feelings swirled and twisted inside Zoe, squeezing out her tears, as a cacophony of battle cries filled the air." Zara 6D

"They briefly stopped to laugh before continuing to wrestle with the enemy. Zoe turned making a run for her boat until a mysterious figure grabbed her hair from behind. The figure tied a piece of cloth to her mouth." Gaia 6D
